

Installation of Sprinkler Systems, 1999 Edition, published in the Proposal Report for the May 2002 Meeting of NFPA 13 has been submitted for review. It was approved and sent for preparation for publication. As shown in fig. 1.3, the sprinkler system consists of three main parts: • A sprinkler, commonly referred to as a sprinkler, and often referred to as an irrigation system, which is a part containing a liquid or gas in the form of a liquid. • sprinkler head, which is commonly referred to as a sprinkler head, which can be both a sprinkler head and a sprinkler head.
