full size Binary code translators, also known as keygens or key breakers, are software programs that change the format of an executable binary file into another format so it can be read on any supported machine without having the original code.

Code translators generally operate by modifying the key bytes in the binary file, which change every 8 bytes (one byte is 1-bit of information). Think of it as an easy way to change the code of your game to whatever you want without going through the normal process of actually creating a new game. To help you go through this process more efficiently, we're presenting the common code format. Let's say we want to make our game turn all three of our audio channels into mono, and move all of the data to the right. We'll first set the correct amounts of the data that we want to edit, then set the channel(s) that we want to convert. (These key values and word are at the beginning of each row, not in the order of the actual data.) MOVE 0x0398, 0x7FF8 WELLINGTON, Plaintiff-Appellant,v.UNITED STATES of America, Defendant-Appellee. No. 95-36106. United States Court of Appeals, Ninth Circuit. Submitted June 12, 1996.*Decided June 18, 1996. Before: CANBY, NORRIS, and LEAVY, Circuit Judges. 1 MEMORANDUM 2 Plaintiff Garland Wellington, a Vietnam War veteran, appeals the district court's order granting judgment in favor of the defendant on his action brought under the Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA), 28 U.S.C. §§ 2671-80, for the wrongful death of his son (Hosie Wellington) and the alleged negligence of the Veteran's Administration (VA) in failing to properly treat his mental illness. We have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1291, and we affirm. 3 We review de novo the district court's entry of summary judgment. See Oja v. U.S., 618 F.2d 1179, 1183 (9th Cir.1980). We must determine "whether, viewing the evidence in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party,... there are any genuine issues of material fact and whether the district court applied the relevant substantive law." Id. "When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in Rule 56, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of the adverse party's pleading, but the adverse party's response, by affidavit or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial." Fed.R.Civ.P. 56(e). We may affirm the district court's order granting summary judgment on any ground supported by the record. See State Farm Fire & Cas. Co. v.
