I will be conducting a lottery to select candidates for this role. The application will include an application form, resume and cover letter. The selection process is blind, meaning that I do not know the gender, race or other such details about the person before he or she applies. The selection will be made entirely on the basis of merit. So please do not make any guesses about your chances, even if you think you have the best resume. In order to prevent irregularities, applications will be checked and the selected candidates interviewed by telephone. Candidates and the job will be posted for 60 days after the closing date. Only shortlisted candidates will be invited for the final interview.

Orc Warriors are one of the most vicious fighting forces in the world. They are strong, fierce and cunning. Their sheer numbers are terrifying. This pack contains a mix of male and female warriors, from the Orcish Bloodrager all the way up to the fearsome Orc Worg and Rider. There are also some sneaky bloodragers that use trickery and stealth to get the advantage over their opponents. Orc Warriors excel in the use of martial arts and teamwork to create a devastating fighting force.

Black Orc: The Black Orc is a dark, evil and very aggressive Orc. They are often seen raiding and conquering weaker races or villages, and they would flee into the depths of the woods if there is nowhere else to run. They are a well trained and vicious fighting force, and can be very dangerous.

Half Orc: These orcs are born from a union of an Orc and a human, often with the Orc parent being a high ranking officer. The Half orcs are a more cautious of the other races and are often the commanders of their Orc armies. They are well trained in combat, but their skill and courage comes at a cost. Some Half orcs are very strong and good at magic, and sometimes look down on the Orc Warriors for being under their command.

Bruiser: These Orcs are an ideal fighting force. These are the toughest and most aggressive orcs in the battle, as they are often sent in the front lines, and tend to keep the most vicious part of the battle, the front lines. These orcs are usually higher in rank, and deal with the higher ups of the other races, and they are the ones usually seen using stronger magic and weapons.

Archer: These Orcs are the men and women of the military. They are the ones that spend a lot of time with bows, and are used mostly for scouting and patrols. They are the best to look after the prisoners, and although they are also the weakest, they also are the most enjoyable to play.

Bloodrager: These Orcs are a smaller group, looking different from any other Orc, they are unusually large, and seem to have mixed Orc and human features. They are not as sophisticated as other Orcs, and often feel like a threat to the other races. Some think that these Orc are actually half-bloods, or hybrids.

Ripper: These Orcs are extra tough, and they are sent to the front, and often seen leading the charge for the other Orc

30 years for kidnapping, raping, strangling, raping again Syracuse, N.Y. -- A Bucharest, Romania, man was sentenced today to 30 years in state prison for kidnapping, raping, and strangling his former girlfriend from Green Spring, Maryland, before fleeing to Bucharest. Romanian national Alexandru Dumitrescu pleaded guilty to second-degree kidnapping, first-degree assault, and second-degree assault in Maryland District Court. A preliminary investigation by Maryland State Police in St. Mary's County identified him as a suspect in crimes against a woman from Green Spring. Dumitrescu worked with another man in the theft of a car. He and the man then picked up the woman in Maryland, held her at gunpoint, and then drove to a cemetery where they raped her and strangled her. The pair fled the state, Dumitrescu to Bucharest and the other to Canada and then on to Germany. The victim reported the crime to police on Aug. 6, 2016. She was treated for a

More information The Age of Shadows is a fantastic new direction for the Mortal Kombat series. To that end, it serves as both a sequel and a successor to the game that was released for the SNES in 1993. Its character roster is rather small, at only 16 (including blood), but the gameplay is significantly improved over the last game. However, the biggest difference is that this game features a completely different plot, moving from the Mortal Kombat tournament realm to an alternate history where all the villains from the games have teamed up to take over the world.
