Krieg is a fun local multiplayer game inspired by classic wrestling and boxing games, and updated with an interesting rogue-like multiplayer experience. Krieg: A Fun Local Multiplayer Game inspired by classic wrestling and boxing games, with a unique and immersive multiplayer mode. Get into the ring with up to 4 players and either face off against each other or against an endless onslaught of the undead. Your actions will either be reflected in the gameplay or if you are sneaky you may avoid detection, blow up the arena or do anything else you can think of. Krieg features 3 gameplay modes: - Tutorial - Survive the tutorial level to learn the controls. - Arena - Fight against your friends or the undead with a variety of weapons and special powers. - Endless - Survive against infinite waves of the undead for as long as you can. FEATURES - Action-Packed Multiplayer Mode: Take part in local multiplayer games with up to 4 players. Jump into arena matches or take on your friends in a one-on-one scenario. - Physics-Based Action: Krieg features competitive multiplayer matches where players will need to fight and dodge opponents and each other. - Customizable Characters: Choose from a variety of characters including a Boy Scout or a Nazi. Each character has it's own unique set of weapons and special powers. - Intense PvE Gameplay: Perform special powers like throwing bombs at your foes or using a crossbow to focus a multitude of your foes all at once. - Survival Mode: Survive against endless waves of the undead as long as you can. - Comedy Modes: Like the show? We know you do! Take part in the funniest wrestling matches where players will perform comedy dances and get into wacky situations. - Indie Project: Krieg was originally created in 2015 by 2 students as a final project in their Games Programming class. The goal of the student was to create an indie game as they finally had the time to work on it. The student was also trying to get more experience with Unity. They wanted to make the game look as close to a professional wrestling game as possible and most importantly they wanted to create something that never has been created before. Additional information: - You can choose your opponent type at the start of the game. By pressing the up button (of the PlayStation controller) you can select

The setting: a beautiful Medieval Germany. The players: the king, his uncle, his father and the Duke. The atmosphere: elegant and pure. The time of the game: the 15th century. And there is more: the chance to see your favorite lord through the eyes of a young man. You now get the chance to live in a tale that is as poetic as it is intense. You are a young man who dreams about the tale of the epic heroes. It is easy to become lost in the beauty of the sound track. You will meet the knights who write legends and the brave young man whose life is bound to the throne. Be drawn in by the generous offer of the Duke and you will get to explore the mysteries of your heart. You will meet legends and myths which you never knew existed. Search the brave knights in the endless forests, find the lost treasures and the enigmatic ladies and bring them to the beautiful king. You will find yourself in a world full of knights, castles, princes and fairies. Feel the atmosphere of the game and you will want to become a knight yourself. A thrilling story for all, from the start to the finish, at your own pace. This will give you a chance to write your own great legend. The story of the game: Time: Your story starts with you playing a small part as part of the story. The scenery: Through the eyes of a young man who is keen on romance, you will read an old story about a beautiful princess who dreamed to marry the brave knight. The premise: The brave young man wants to marry the princess. The son: The game's hero comes to court

What's new in Corsair`s Madness:

carteri* (Linnaeus, 1758) (Fig. 4{ref-type="fig"}). It demonstrates high variability in the apical lobe size in relation to the length of the stylus, ranging from 10 to 40 µm. The narrower apical lobe is characteristic of the species, and this fact may be the basis for the designation of *S. spinosissima* as non-cyclostome. As in the case of *Spirogyra helianthus* and *Colocasia stolonifera*, the columella of *S. carteri* has central canal ([@ref-17]; [@ref-42]). In the cystid, the apical lobe is situated posteriorly. In *Spirogyra carteri*,* the size of the lateral lobes is constantly equal to the size of the apical lobe. The characteristic series of the *Spirogyra carteri* exist in the central (rectangular) portion of its end-parts of the apical lobes, and the series ranges from 2 to 5 elements. The sizes of these elements are uniform and show a positive correlation with the size of the apical lobe. Occurring among the central portion of the apical lobes, as with another *Spirogyra* species, *S. amoena* Mertens ex Kützing, 1846 ([@ref-20]), the boundary of the surrounding elements is situated on the extension of the lateral lobe. I also observed an unusual position of the columella, which has its anteroventral tip (pointing ventrally) situated above its base, where it enters the cavity of the cystid, which explains the nova denomination of the species. ![Diagram of a polyp of *S. carteri* (A) and a cystid (B). \ ---numbers in A are: A1 -- labiate lobe, A2 -- lateral lobe, A3 -- inflated apical lobe, A4 -- lateral vein, A5 -- anteroventral tip, A6 -- columella, and A7 -- labium. A is used according to the scheme of [@ref-42].](peerj-06-4185-g004){#fig-4} Taxonomic status of *Spirogyra carteri* is ambiguous

Free Corsair`s Madness

Xotic was a classic hard-scrabble first-person shooter (FPS) for the PC. We see a lot of FPS games today that pay homage to the past, but rarely do we see something that captures the spirit of the originals as well as Xotic did. Xotic: Deluxe Edition captures the original Xotic experience through PC-targeted upgrades and additions. Xotic was a star-crossed space mercenary who used shields, bullets, telekinesis, and of course warp fields to navigate the endless galactic dangers...on foot. His ship crashed in the Northern woods, and he and his crew took shelter at a remote farm. Unfortunately, the farm was owned by crazed alien hunters who were looking for him and his crew! Xotic and his crew escaped and traveled north until they encountered the alien base camp. Xotic's crew went through the camp, but Xotic was captured. They were on a mission to rescue a precious valuables from the camp, and at the end of that mission, Xotic gets out! What happened to all the rest of his crew? Did they escape to other locations, or did they die in the alien camp? If you like old-school bullet-hell shooting games, put Xotic to the test! This game contains adult-themed content, including a reference to cigarettes in the in-game title. See more about the life & times of the game designer at: The system requirements for Xotic are what the game designer had in mind. If you are concerned about these specs, please leave a comment and I'll consider that. But we know how impatient gamers can be, and if someone tells you that the game can't run on your machine, it's probably not true. Take advantage of the tech level of the old drives, or the new graphics cards. I have fine-tuned the visuals of Xotic so that we can get more mileage out of all those extra CPUs and GPUs of today. If you've always been interested in getting involved with game development, but never had the time or the skillset, you're in luck! Note: This Game is provided "AS IS", with no warranties or guarantees of any kind, express or implied. No refunds will be given for this game. The only thing you can do with this game is play it. The developer is not liable for any damage

BEVERLY HILLS, CA - The Beverly Hills Public Access Recreational Board is pleased to bring you this two part video to show you how to use your home constructed paddle board to generate usable energy from the conditions of your home. Part 1 video- "How To Brew Your Own Beverages" Part 2 video- "How To Use The Beverages You Brew Part 2 also shows us the methods and materials to build a simple paddle board which can then be used to generate energy for your entire home. We look forward to seeing you at Beachside Royalty, Wed. Feb. 9th, 2015 to present and discuss additional ideas that you may have for PVe renewable energy. Other H.O.P.E. Programs in Beverly Hills. Founded by Melissa Frankel and John Combs, the Beverly Hills Public Access Recreational Board ("BHAPAR") is a nonprofit, non-government organization (NGO) that promotes the recreational use of beach access property in the Beverly Hills community for healthful activities and environmental education. Your Beachside Royalty Team made this video to show you a preliminary recipe for making your own Kombucha. The process can be followed by anyone including persons that are green or vegetarian. This recipe is one of many micro-entrepreneurial alternatives to the cement, wood and concrete of our modern civilization. With the increase in Energy costs, everyone wants to do something to help keep the gasoline and electric bills down. As we all know, it is hazardous and inconvenient to drive a gas guzzler and has a severe environmental impact. Producing just about all of our modern consumption in this manner is only further hastening the destruction of the earth. The story of this recipe is being featured on the radio by the KJR radio show
