you have to find superoneclick 1.6.5 on the internet, some links dont work, some have viruses. i found one that works. follow the above guide, but when it gets stuck on running rageagainstthecage just leave it for more then 30 seconds. i left it for 4 minutes. (i tried a few times 30 seconds). the message will come up to shut usb debugging off, dont. keep the usb cable disconnected untill the sound from the pc comes that it is disconnected. wait for superoneclick to finish the apb stuff and it should say, waiting for device. then plug the cable back in (with usb debugging still on). it should continue right away and after a few seconds it asks if you want to run a test. for people who are still trying to do this. you have to find superoneclick 1.6.5 on the internet, some links dont work, some have viruses. i found one that works. follow the above guide, but when it gets stuck on running rageagainstthecage just leave it for more then 30 seconds. i left it for 4 minutes.
