I'm running Ubuntu Server 14.04.2 (Trusty Tahr) in a VirtualBox VM and I'd like to run a server software in it. To do this, how do I have the equivalent of virtualbox-ose and then how do I run it? A: You can run a full desktop environment in VirtualBox, but keep in mind that the performance will probably be much poorer than if you were to run it on bare metal. With that said, Ubuntu Desktop has most of what you need to be a complete service. Installing a server package from the main repository will only install the base services which are required to run a basic server. Q: Regular Expression to validate date in postgresql I want to validate date on enter to input field. VALID EXAMPLES : 2013-04-07 12/07/2013 INVALID EXAMPLES: 2013-04-07 2013-04-14 How I can validate it? A: Do it like this : [0-9]{2}\/[0-9]{2}\/[0-9]{4} This will validate if the date is in the format : yyyy-mm-dd OR yyyy-dd-mm A: Just use regular expression with valid date formats (basic rules): inclusive year is from 1801 to 9999 inclusive month is from 1 to 12 (number only, no leading 0) inclusive day is from 1 to 31 (number only, no leading 0) Q: Best Event Management tool to manage events? I am trying to work on a project which involves monitoring and executing tasks based on events, something like monitoring DNS, instant messaging, etc. I have never worked on this before and need help in choosing a appropriate tool for the job. A: To start, you really need a good core library such as: Microsoft's EventLog Cosmos and from there you can write your own methods. # Copyright (c) 2020, f988f36e3a
