"Our "We" are a small company from Russia (Moscow). A lot of players not in online games have similar problems with internet-connection - they have a lag, and the computer slows down to a crawl. After long time of work on that project, it's time to share that result with you. Our program "Connecting your computer to internet". So now our is a small utility, that makes your Internet connection more reliable. (Another programs are not available for any computer.) Main goal for our program is to make your internet connection more stable, while you're playing online games (or downloading/uploading files), you're working with your PC, and so on. Our program is not a solution to "internet provider-connection problems". In our programs are only some small and simple "firewall" that helps to suppress the potential "interfering programs" and the reasons of the lag, that you've experienced on the Internet before. Also our programs can't solve the lag you have during playing online games and downloading/uploading files on your hard disk. So, our program is intended to be a simple and handy "firewall", that make your Internet connection more stable."
