Buffyfest On Saturday and Sunday, April 16 and 17th, the Fredericktown Mall will be transformed into something you wouldn't normally expect on Main Street: a dedicated space for the love of television. These two days will be filled with an indoor pop-up playground where you can enjoy all of your favorite TV shows. The mall will be transformed into a magical wonderland where each storefront will celebrate the love of a particular TV show. Guests will have the opportunity to sample a large selection of themed food items such as pizza, candy, and even scratch-off tickets. Story continues below photo PHOTO GALLERY: Check Out The Benedict Cumberbatch & Martin Freeman Photo There will also be plenty of activities for the kids such as video games and drawing tables. Guests will be able to dig through costumes, books, and collectibles that relate to the selected TV show. This event is a fundraiser for a local non-profit, The Roseville Creek Foundation. While the Mall will be gone from April 16 through 18th, don't fret—three hours of dedicated shopping will make up for it. The festival will begin at 10 a.m. with costume contest for kids up to age 13. There will be a variety of live entertainment, food trucks and vendors along with all of the TV show themed merchandise. Once the final hour draws near, the heart of the show will take place. About two hours of activities will be scheduled along with an evening show featuring musical acts and contests.
